Brassill Wins Mallet.
Young Brassill, who is styled the Norwich Boy Wonder, broke the tie with Stockwell Wednesday night in the race for the possession of the Adams Prize mallet. He was the defender. The Adams prize mallet contest was started Monday night when Stockwell challenged President Prentice, the mallet defender, and won possession of it. Tuesday Brassill challenged Stockwell and the contest started Tuesday night. Brassill won the first game and then Stockwell tied by winning the second. The deciding game was carried over to Wednesday night and was taken by Brassill. Immediately after the game President Prentice introduced the boy player to the large and enthusiastic audience, announcing him as the new mallet holder.

First Van Wickle Contest.
In a contest for possession of the First Van Wickle Medal Harold Bosworth, challenger, lost two straight to Eddie Clark. Clark must win four out of seven games in order to retain his title to the medal. The audience was much interested in the games on Wednesday evening and needless to say the interest today was even greater. In these two ex-champions got together on the courts. Both are prominent players and will battle to the bitter end.

Huot Retains Second Van Wickle.
The second Van Wickle remains in the possession of Huot who holds first place in the second division, he taking three straight from Millard. Huot won this medal in last year's tournament.

Brassill's First Defeat.
Brassill met his first defeat on Wednesday at the hands of National Champion Harold Clark. He put up a stiff fight, however, and made a very creditable showing.

Brassill, however, added another victory to his home town and many morning when he defeated W. C. Rodman, the Philadelphia player. Rodman had the game well in his own hands when he missed an easy shot and Brassill finished with his opponent but four arrows behind him. The Norwich boy is making a splendid showing in his home town and many enthusiasts on the grounds would be pleased to see the boy win out. He plays a strong game and has to be watched by all opponents.

Among the more important games on Wednesday morning was that between two ex-champions, Harold Bosworth and Everett Robinson. They were matched on the first of the first division courts. Both players had lost one game, Bosworth losing to Williams and Robinson to young Brassill. Who ever lost the present game should go out of the race for the championship.

the championship for the time being at least. Bosworth started off with the ball and played the game, trying rather wildly. Robinson got the balls from him and from that time on the game was zig-zag, first one getting possession of the balls and then the other. Robinson finally got started in good shape and had the game well in hand when Bosworth once more got the balls and soon made the circuit.

Another game that attracted more or less attention Wednesday was that between F. P. Fenton and Arthur L. Williams. Foss shot Bosworth out without giving him the balls.

Williams and Kirk played a pretty game, Williams leading the game. He went to go and Williams made four points. Williams made a long, open shot, got the balls and Kirk didn't see them again for the remainder of the game. It was one of the greatest games Williams has played for some years.

Annual Meeting Today.
The annual meeting of the association will be held this morning at 11:30 o'clock. It was called at 9 o'clock by President S. B. Prentice, but was immediately adjourned until Thursday morning.

In addition to the election of officers, one of the important matters to come up will be the question of securing a new location for the tournament next year. Several of the prominent members when approached Wednesday night said they would like very much to have the tournament held in Norwich. Visiting players expressed themselves as well pleased with the reception afforded them in their annual visits to the Roque of New England and it would be a source of regret to see the tournament taken out of Norwich.

Several players have been appointed by Chairman Williams and President Prentice as a board of referees to decide any questions that might arise during the week's play. F. M. Thompson, Danbury; L. C. Williams, Washington and F. M. Pratt of Willimantic. These players represent three divisions and any who might want to discuss a rule of certain shots may be enlightened by speaking to this newly named board.

Watermelon Night Friday.
It was announced Wednesday night that Friday would be Watermelon Night. Watermelon Night was originated years ago by former Street Commissioner John F. Sevin, who offered a watermelon to a prize. Such men as A. W. Dickson, Dudley of New London, Fay of New York, Prof. Jacobus, formerly of Springfield and N. Bishop used to compete for the honors.

The Band Concert.
The municipal band concert by Tubbs band just outside the roque grounds started the past week. The band has been enjoying the fire program which had been arranged by John M. Swahn, director. Autos were lined up on the side of Rockwell street and McKinley avenue, while hundreds took possession of the nearby stone-walls.

ANNUAL REUNION OF THE 16TH REGIMENT.

Civil War Veterans Gathered at the Buckingham Memorial on Wednesday.

The 48th annual reunion of the 16th Connecticut Volunteers was held at Buckingham Memorial on Wednesday. The reunion was held at the Buckingham Memorial on Wednesday. The reunion was held at the Buckingham Memorial on Wednesday. The reunion was held at the Buckingham Memorial on Wednesday.

Secretary Hovey, who is also treasurer, started the past year's record. Peale, with $275.82. He took in $45.35 and paid out $35.48 and the balance on hand is $245.69.

At the election of officers Mr. Hovey was re-elected. He said he would have to retain Arthur L. Peale to aid him in the work and he said Mr. Peale was willing to do anything for the regiment his father was at the head of. Upon motion of Captain J. E. Woodward, Mr. Peale was elected assistant secretary.

Vice presidents were chosen as follows: Company C, Charles H. Lynch of Hartford; Company E, James M. Burrows of Putnam; Company I, Captain S. R. Knapp of Norwich; Company K, Henry W. Babson of Danielson.

At this point Caretaker Philip Spellman, announced that former Mayor F. L. Osgood had donated two hundred dollars to the regiment. He was accepted and a vote of thanks passed.

When the interred and badly shod flag was presented to the company that went from there was unfolded and all stood up and cheered. It is carefully preserved by the members of the Woman's Relief corps.

Extracts from letters from the following veterans were read by Mr. Hovey and they interested the veterans.

George W. Loomis of Dallas, Texas, wrote he could not attend the reunion on account of business engagements but he sent $5 to aid in paying expenses. He said he lately had an interesting letter from Capt. J. E. Woodward, who he remembered to all the comrades.

From Red Oak, Iowa, Joel Carey of Company C sent word that old age would keep him at home but he was in hopes he would get a paper to read about the reunion. He sent an offering.

Charles H. Lynch of Hartford wrote Secretary Hovey a letter of 400 words to say and said he would be at the meeting and it contained information about Company D, James E. Horace Fox, who live near Mr. Lynch in Hartford. Mr. Lynch said his wife was lately knocked down by lightning while standing on the veranda of her home and she was unconscious for a time but has recovered. Mr. Lynch was in Company C.

Wm. H. Brown, a member of Company D, wrote from San Francisco, that he was in good health but

HOW TO BE RID OF DISGUSTING DANDRUFF

The only way to be permanently rid of disgusting, untidy dandruff is to correct its cause. Washing merely cleanses the scalp for a few days, and soon the scales form again as thick as ever.

To destroy the dandruff germ and get rid of dandruff for good, part the hair and apply a little of the genuine Parisian Sage directly on the bare scalp, and rub in with the finger tips for a few minutes, until the scalp absorbs it. Go over the entire head in this same manner.

A few days' massage with Parisian Sage will destroy the germs that cause the dandruff to form. The scalp becomes healthy, the hair will grow better and show more life and vitality, and you need never be troubled by dandruff again. Faded, dull or lifeless hair is quickly restored to beauty by this simple process, which is absolutely harmless to hair and scalp, as it contains no poisonous wood alcohol and will not stain the hair or make it greasy.

Parisian Sage can be obtained from Lee & Osgood's and druggists everywhere. It is not expensive.

too far away to attend and he is 77 years old. He is the father of Mr. A. R. post in a preparedness parade this summer and the march covered one and one half miles and there were no complaints of fatigue.

James H. Sawyer, commander of the G. A. R. post in Lafayette, Indiana, wrote a letter of seven pages by hand and he said he would like to be with his comrades but circumstances would not permit. He signed the muster roll of his company on Aug. 4, 54 years ago in Putnam, Norway. He made a contribution to the offering.

Comrade C. H. Ellsworth of Rochester sent a letter of greeting and a small sum for the fund.

C. F. Kegobles of Indianapolis, Ind., sent a letter to say he was sorry he could not attend on account of the long distance to the state. He ever has the old comrades in mind.

Mrs. G. D. Button sent a short note and enclosed $1 for the offering in memory of her husband, who was in the 15th C. V. in Company A.

Several recalled the fact that Capt. John E. Woodward now of New London is the only commissioned officer above who left Norwich with the regiment and came home with it. He is also the only one living of the 27 commissioned officers who were captured at the battle of Winchester. Captain Woodward went to the front from Norwich and lived here for years.

Mr. Hovey said a card sent by him to Andrew Palmer, who had been in Colechester, was returned and he asked the comrades to try and locate the man. A card sent to Edwin L. Joslyn, Togus, Me., was also returned and the official was notified the soldier is now in Middletown. It was reported that Josiah W. Whitney died on Feb. 15, 1915.

There are now 162 known living members of the regiment.

James Hovey of Willimantic, one of the youngest looking members of the regiment, was present at the reunion.

When Mr. Hovey was in Washington a year ago he called on officials at the war department to get information as to comrades of whom he knew nothing and found out that some of them had died within a few years. The names of those and all who died within the past years have been sent to all living comrades and are as follows with the names of their company:

Charles S. Miller, I, May 2, 1915; Gilbert Letcher, G, May 2, 1915; Harrison C. Bonds, G, July 2, 1915; William Goodell, K, July 2, 1915; George H. Burroughs, B, July 2, 1915; James H. The collection taken by James McKee amounted to $9.62. It was voted to meet in Norwich next year.

After the business meeting the members of the Woman's Relief corps provided a dinner. Comrade Greene offered the prayer. At the head of the table and to the right of President Caruthers were Miss Hannah L. Ripley and Mrs. George C. Ripley as the guests of honor. Henry Hovey was the only member of the field and staff officers present.

McCord's orchestra rendered a concert program while the comrades were dining.

During the course of the dinner a detachment of the boys from Camp Dowe, who were on a hike, were regaled in front of the Memorial. The West Side company responded.

The second call was at 2:25 o'clock. This was for a fire on the roof of the barracks on lower Broadway. Chemical extinguishers from the Main street company and the auto-pumper from the Central station responded.

Chief Stanton says that people in the adjoining buildings are somewhat careless about dropping matches, cigarettes or cigars down on to the roof of the Shields building, which is lower than the others.
